We are adopting the Citing Medicine for the citation as well as referencing with a slight modification of Vancouver style as advocated by National Center for Biotechnology Information (NCBI) and U.S. National Library of Medicine (NLM). [https://www.ncbi.nlm.nih.gov/books/NBK7256/]
The details on How to prepare the References List in Vancouver Style? Can be downloaded [Download]

1. Referencing the journal article in Vancouver style: The hyperlinked DOI, PubMed, PMC, Google Scholar, Full Text are mandatory for each references wherever applicable.

The reference of Journal article should be listed in this order:

Author(s) last name followed by first name. Title of journal article. Title of journal. Year of publication; Volume number (Issue number): Page numbers of the article

For Example:

- Less than six authors:

- More than six authors:

2. Referencing the book in Vancouver style:

The reference of book should be listed in this way:

Author(s)/Editor (if it is an editor always put (ed.) after the name). Title of the book. Series title and number (if part of a series). Edition (if not the first edition). Place of publication (if there is more than one place listed, use the first named). Name of the Publisher: Year of publication.

For Printed book

For e-book

3. Referencing the Report (Printed) of any report in Vancouver style:
The reference of a report/web page should be listed in this way:
Author/Editor (if it is an editor always put (ed.) after the name). Title (this should be in italics). Organization.
Report number: (this should be followed by the actual number in figures). Year of publication.

For example

4. Referencing the Report (Online version) in Vancouver style:
The reference of a web page should be listed in this way:
Author/Editor (use the corporate author if no individual author or editor is named). Title (this should be in italics). Available from: URL [Date of access]

For Example
http://rosetta.esa.int